

The Student Leadership Development
Certificate Program
2005 National Student Leadership Conference

Hosted by
Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey

Think about it...

Are you ready to lead?

“Leadership from Within:
Personal and Professional Development”

The 2005 SLDI National Student Leadership Conference aims to assist the personal and professional development of emerging student leaders at Rutgers and other institutions.

The conference will educate student leaders on the components of leadership in organizational settings, focusing on facets of leadership such as the use of effective communication, development of team building and implementation of techniques for orchestrating an effective meeting.

In addition, students will participate in interactive self-assessment throughout the conference, learn about emotional intelligence and have the opportunity to network with student and professional leaders from the Rutgers community and from across the nation.

Saturday
October 1, 2005
Rutgers Student Center
College Avenue Campus
8:00 a.m. - 5:30 pm

For information on attending, volunteering, or to join the conference task force email:
leadershipconference@scils.rutgers.edu